Clean up the streets and alleys.

Eggs 12 cts. a doz. at Halley's department store Saturday.

Protection, Kas., belied its name the other day by being swept by a tornado.

Children's sailors and baby caps at great reduction.

MRS. C. P. VANDIVER.

One of the biggest rains of the season fell Friday night, and almost drowned out the street fair at Salisbury.

Do something to improve the appearance of your residence or business property. A little paint would help wonderfully.

Nothing sells goods so well as genuine merit.

BRUNSWICK LUMBER & IMP. CO.
Brunswick, Mo.

I have 1,000 yards of summer silks that I am selling at 25 and 35 cts. a yard—a great bargain.
Wm. Rosenstein.

Emmett R. Lane, who formerly got his mail at Rothville, writes us to change his COURIER to Marceline, and says he has bought a farm 1 1-2 miles east of Marceline.

Mrs. A. C. Reppenhagen and her pretty little daughter, Pansy, and winsome Miss Caroline Friesz of near Salisbury, made the COURIER an appreciated call while at the capital Wednesday.

The nobbiest stock of clothing, gents' furnishing goods and men's and boys' shoes in North Missouri.

Wm. Rosenstein.

Miss Eva Wheeler, who has been visiting homefolks of near Guthridge Mills for two weeks, has returned to her work in Kansas City where she has been employed by the Missouri & Kansas Telephone Co. for the past two years.

Geo. Hechler of near Dalton returned Wednesday from a 10-days' trip. While gone he stopped in St. Louis two days to see the world's fair. He also attended a re-union at Lewisburg, W. Va., of the 36th Ohio volunteer infantry of which he was a member in the civil war.

Our old friend, John Scotten, who sold his farm, near Scribner schoolhouse, more than a year ago, and bought and moved to another, near Prairie Hill, was in town Friday looking hale and hearty as ever. John is still able to talk and give a reason for the hope within him, whether of a religious, social or political character.

The Brunswick Lumber & Implement Co. has the largest and most complete line of lumber, lime, cement, implements and vehicles in Chariton county—nothing cheap or shoddy about them. If you are going to build or need a vehicle of any kind it will pay you to call and see us.

BRUNSWICK LUMBER & IMP. CO.
Brunswick, Mo.

Recorder J. M. Mason issued a marriage license Tuesday to Herbert Ashby and Miss Annie Lewis, a colored couple of Brunswick, who were married in that city Wednesday night June 8.

Largest, handsomest and best line of carpets and matings ever shown in Chariton County at Wm. Rosenstein's, Brunswick.

Miss Ethel Thorp, a recent graduate of the woman's and children's hospital at Kansas City, has been attending her aunt, Mrs. N. J. Atterberry of four miles west of Keytesville, who has been and still is very sick of rheumatism and nervous trouble.

Keytesville was almost depopulated Thursday afternoon of last week by our citizens who went to Salisbury to attend the street fair, and also to witness the ball game between Salisbury and Keytesville, which resulted in a victory for Keytesville by a score of 3 to 2.

Word comes from Moberly that L. A. Embree, formerly constable of Keytesville township, but now in the secret service of the Wabash railway, was set upon by strikers at Moberly Tuesday and terribly beaten, and is now in the Wabash hospital as a result of his injuries.

G. W. Ponsler of near Dalton was in Keytesville yesterday morning having some repairs made to a balance churn that had been in use in his family for about 15 years, and with which something like 1,000 pounds of butter a year has been made. Mr. Ponsler says his wife prefers the balance churn to any she ever used.

The merry-go-round has been the center of attraction in Keytesville for the past 10 days for both old and young. Even Judge H. C. Minter and Justice H. A. Wheeler were observed taking a ride Saturday night. When the merry-go-round comes to town dignity takes wings. There's something in a name. The merry-go-round is well named as it is all its name implies.

The ladies of the M. E. church, South, will give an icecream and strawberry supper Friday evening, June 10, in the storeroom formerly occupied by J. C. T. Kubo. "The church pigs," in which funds for a new house of worship have been deposited from time to time for several weeks, will also be opened the same evening, hence "a hog-killing time" is expected. Everybody invited.

By the terms of the anti-nuptial contract entered into by J. D. Dunn of Monmouth, Ills., and Mrs. Catherine Demster of Salisbury, Mr. Dunn released all his marital rights to the property, real or personal, of Mrs. Demster who became Mrs. Dunn last week. By the provisions of the agreement she is also left in full control of her property and has full power to dispose of it without the knowledge or consent of said J. D. Dunn.

Miss Mary Stacy left Wednesday night for Champaign, Ills., to visit her friends, Mrs. J. M. Collins and daughter, Miss Mollie. Miss Mary will attend the world's fair on her return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Rucker and daughter, Margaret, of Welch, W. Va., will spend the summer with Keytesville relatives. Mr. Rucker, we regret to hear, is in poor health. He is a brother to our congressman, W. W. Rucker.

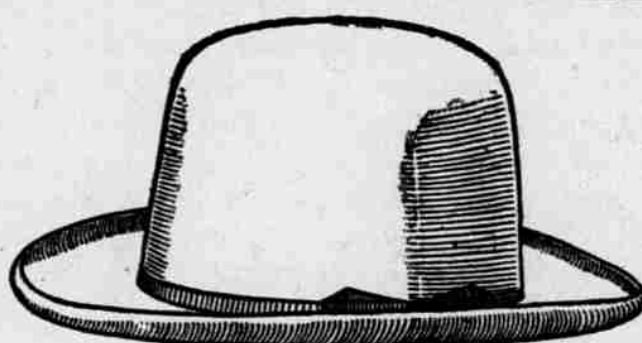

Mrs. J. B. Rice, wife of a former pastor of the Methodist church in this city, is located at 4574 Cook avenue, St. Louis, and is prepared to furnish world's fair visitors with first-class lodging at reasonable rates. Only a 10-minutes' ride from her rooms direct, with a change of cars, to the main entrance to the fair.

Raymond and Willis Williams, two sons of Ham, pleaded guilty Wednesday before Justice Chas. E. Jaeger of Bowling Green township to the charge of disturbing the peace of one Sue Banks, a colored female, by loud and unusual noise, profane and indecent conversation, etc. Raymond was sentenced to the county jail for 180 and Willis for 150 days, and in addition to that they will also have to serve 20 days, each, for costs.

As will be seen by our Linn county notes on the third page of this issue of the COURIER, J. Whiteman died of gastritis at his home in Marceline Thursday night. The deceased moved from Keytesville to Marceline in 1888. He was a resident of this place for 9 or 10 years where he was a partner of W. D. Vaughan in the hardware business. He engaged in the same occupation at Marceline for quite awhile, and then embarked in the dry goods and grocery business, but had been postmaster there for the past 6 or 7 years. He sold his store after he was appointed postmaster. Mr. Whiteman carried $3,000 life insurance—$2,000 in the A. O. U. W., and $1,000 in the Equitable Life Assurance society. A wife and two children, Lon and Miss Della, both grown, survive him. The sorrowing wife and children have the sympathies of their Keytesville friends in their bereavement.
